Vol.27 No.16 Euro Special 1997

ABOVE: The impressive display of drums on the stage in the main hall was mounted by the Princess of Wales's Royal Regiment from the Regimental Museum in Dover.

Welcome once again to Military Modelling magazine's Special Issue of The Best of Euro Militaire. For the second year Nexus sponsored Euro Militaire which was held the last weekend in September at the Show's usual venue of the Leas Cliff Hall in Folkestone, its home since that very first show 12 years ago.

Changes to this year's show were a late addition of a very large marquee erected to the right of the hall on the grassed area of the Leas, towards the bandstand. This splendid marquee had a wood floor with matting and accommodated a lot of the extra trade stands from the overflow list, the demonstrators, extra refreshments and a full size Ferret armoured car which floor manager Mike Reynolds somehow managed to wheel in! The marquee was light, airy and lit by chandeliers and looks like becoming a permanent feature should the Show stay at its present venue.

This year we again saw many visitors from not only the United Kingdom, but from every continental European country, North America, the antipodes and many from afar afield as China and Russia. A slight revision of the main trade hall layout and the marquee eased the 'crush' somewhat although the competition room was the usual crowded and often hectic part of the Show.

Rumours abounded, just like at all shows, but the silliest I've heard in 12 years of Euro Militaires was that the Best of Show was 'fixed'. Like all rumours you can never really completely establish the identity of the original perpetrator whose 'tasty little snippet' spreads, as does all malicious gossip, like wildfire. Such rumours simply denigrate the hard work of the competition judges who have a thankless task when it comes to the heavily subscribed Classes 1A and 1B. This year I don't think it was so much 'sour grapes', but more malicious and mischievous, originating, I hasten to add, not with competitors, but from sources who I thought would have known a lot better. The pity is that some actually believe such rumours!

A lot of modellers had brought display items which were arrayed in the competition room for the benefit of all. These dedicated 'few' are often forgotten, like those who give up valuable time to demonstrate their skills, but they contribute so much to Euro Militaire by displaying their work for all to see and discuss. This year we had some displays from overseas modellers in addition to our regular stalwarts, which added to the colour and conversation.

This year's 'Special' has followed the same lines as our first 'Best of Euro Militaire' published last year. The mix of models and people was, overall, well received, however, a few readers remarked that they would rather see models than 'mug shots', but the majority of reader feedback I received, which is always welcome, liked the mix, being able to put faces to the names! So, we've left the mix unchanged and Fraser Gray worked hard, ably assisted by Gary Gibbs, Stuart Asquith and Bob Marrion, to bring you the 'flavour' of Euro Militaire.

If you didn't make it this year, this 'Special' should go some way to redressing what you missed.

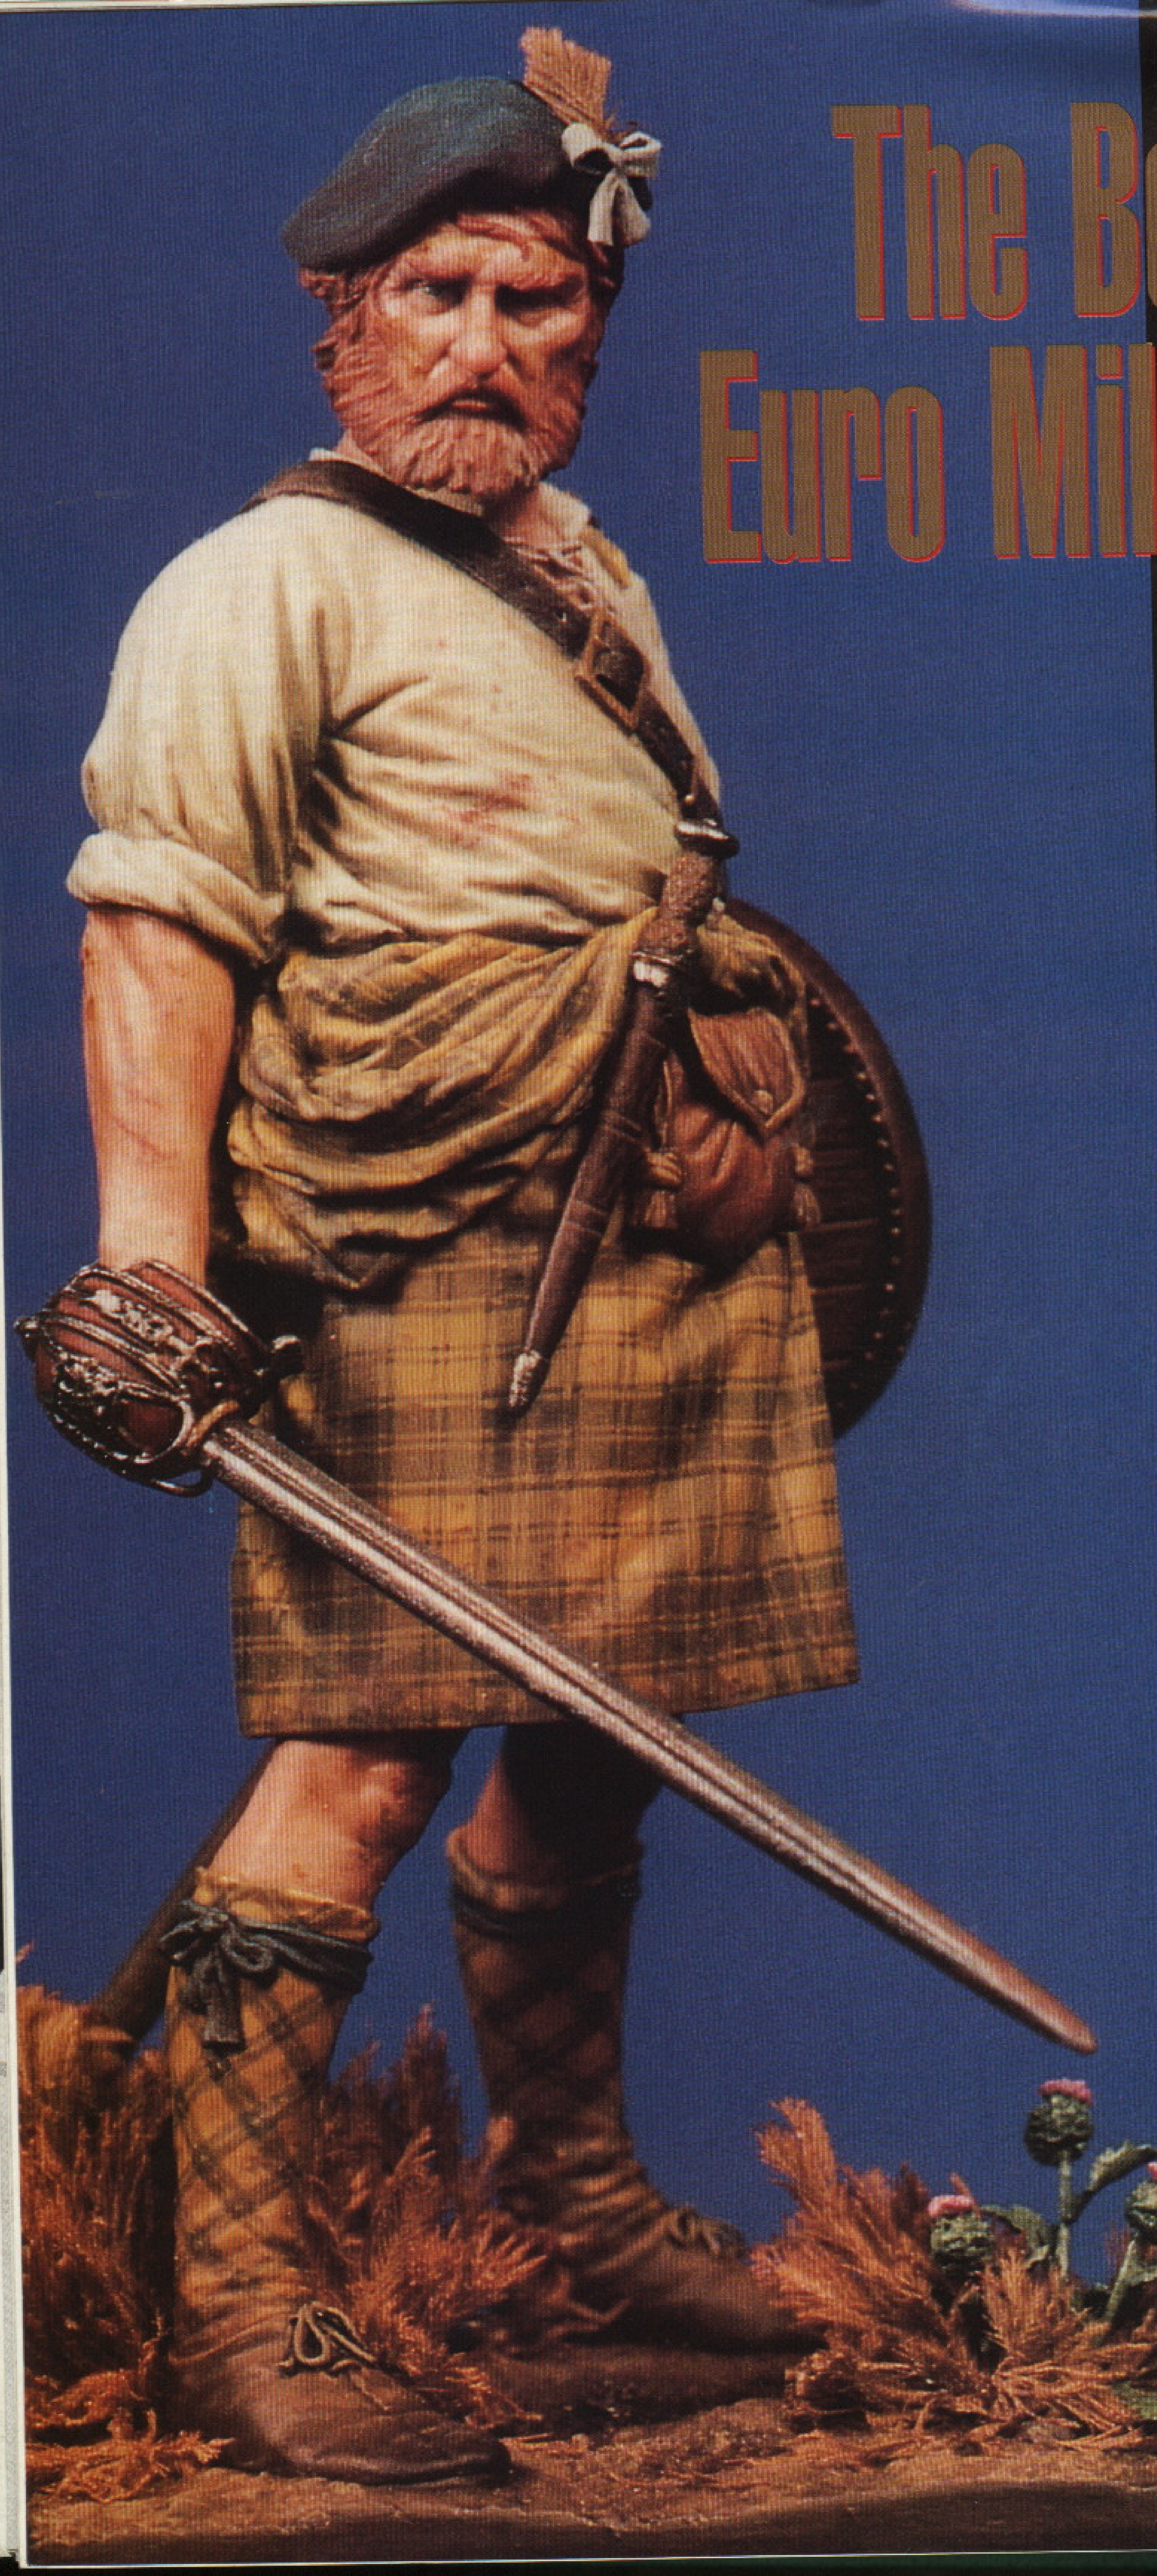
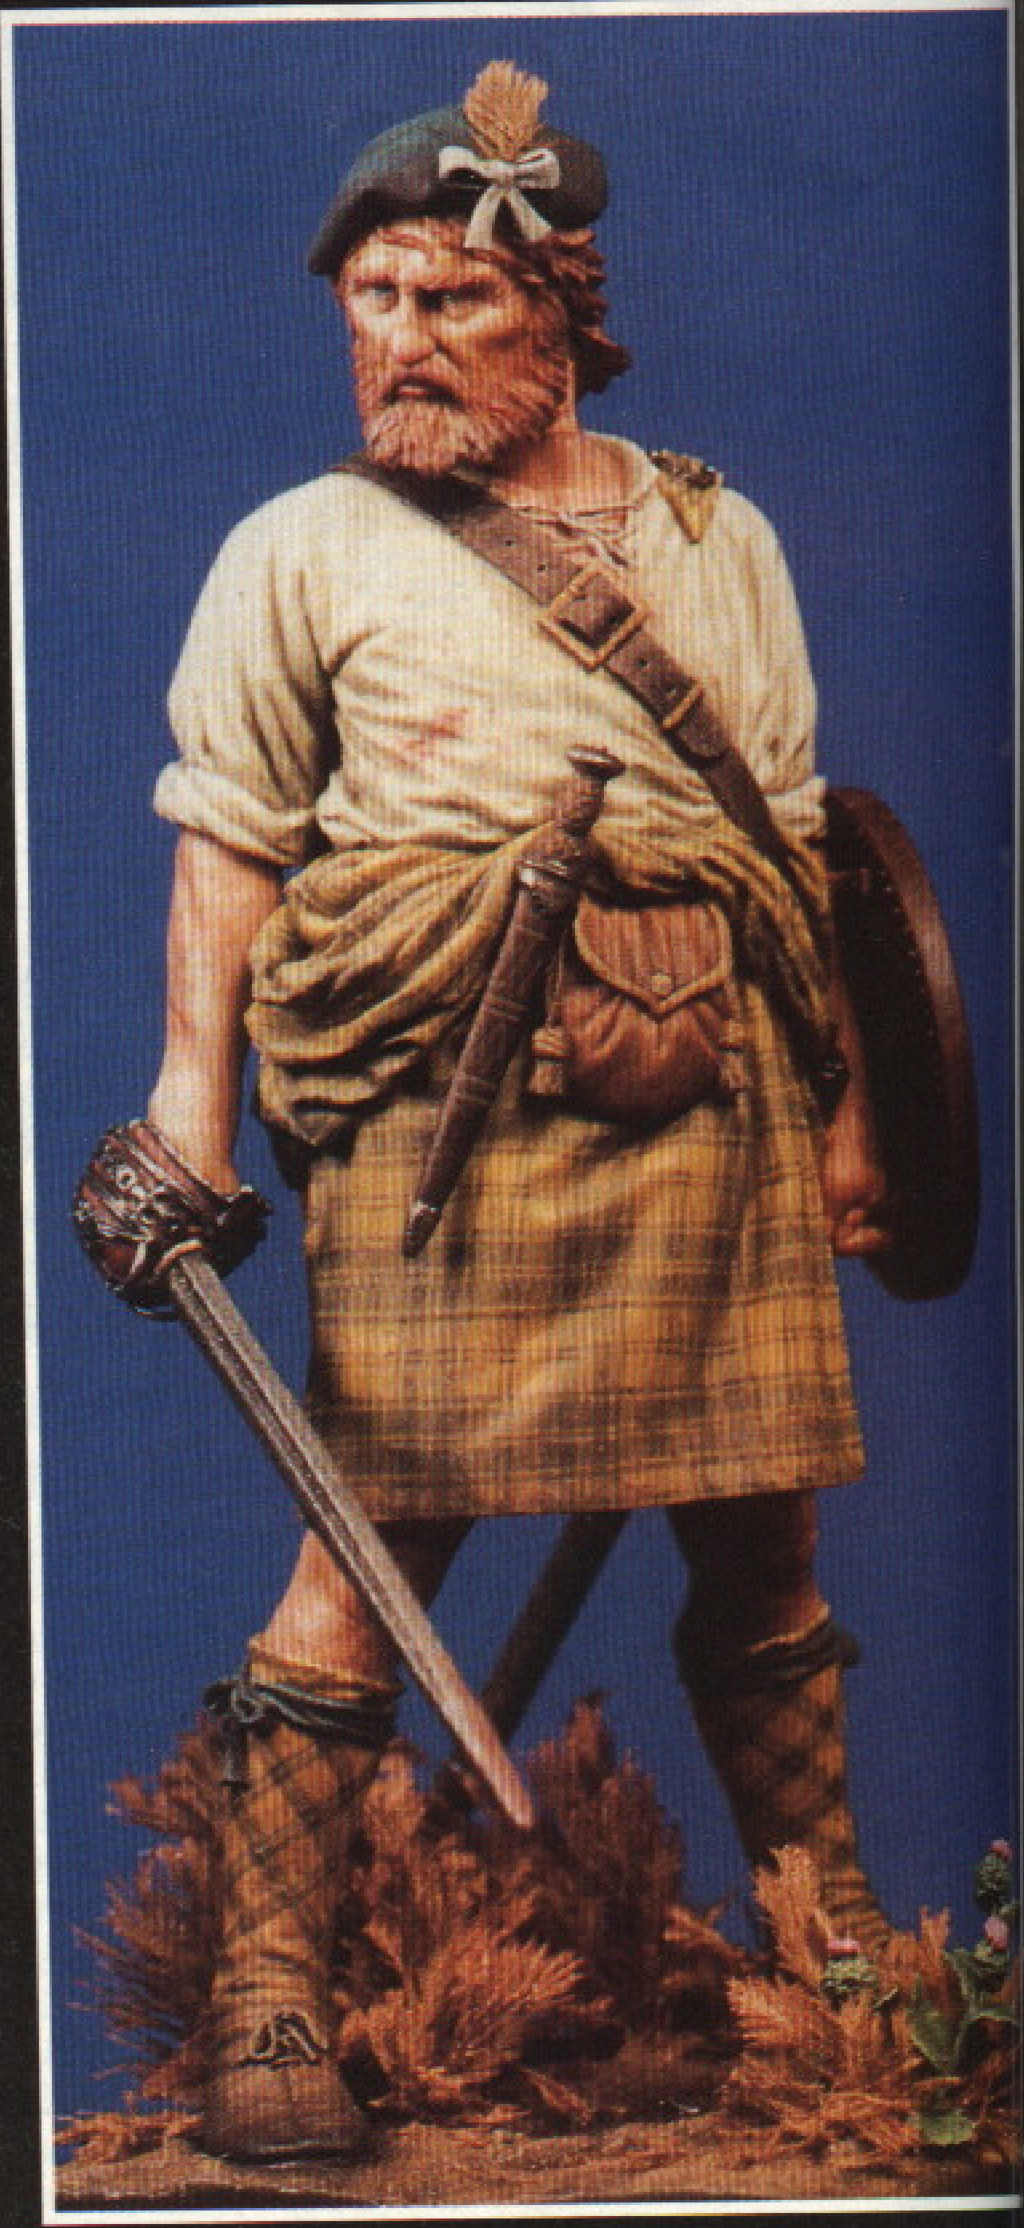
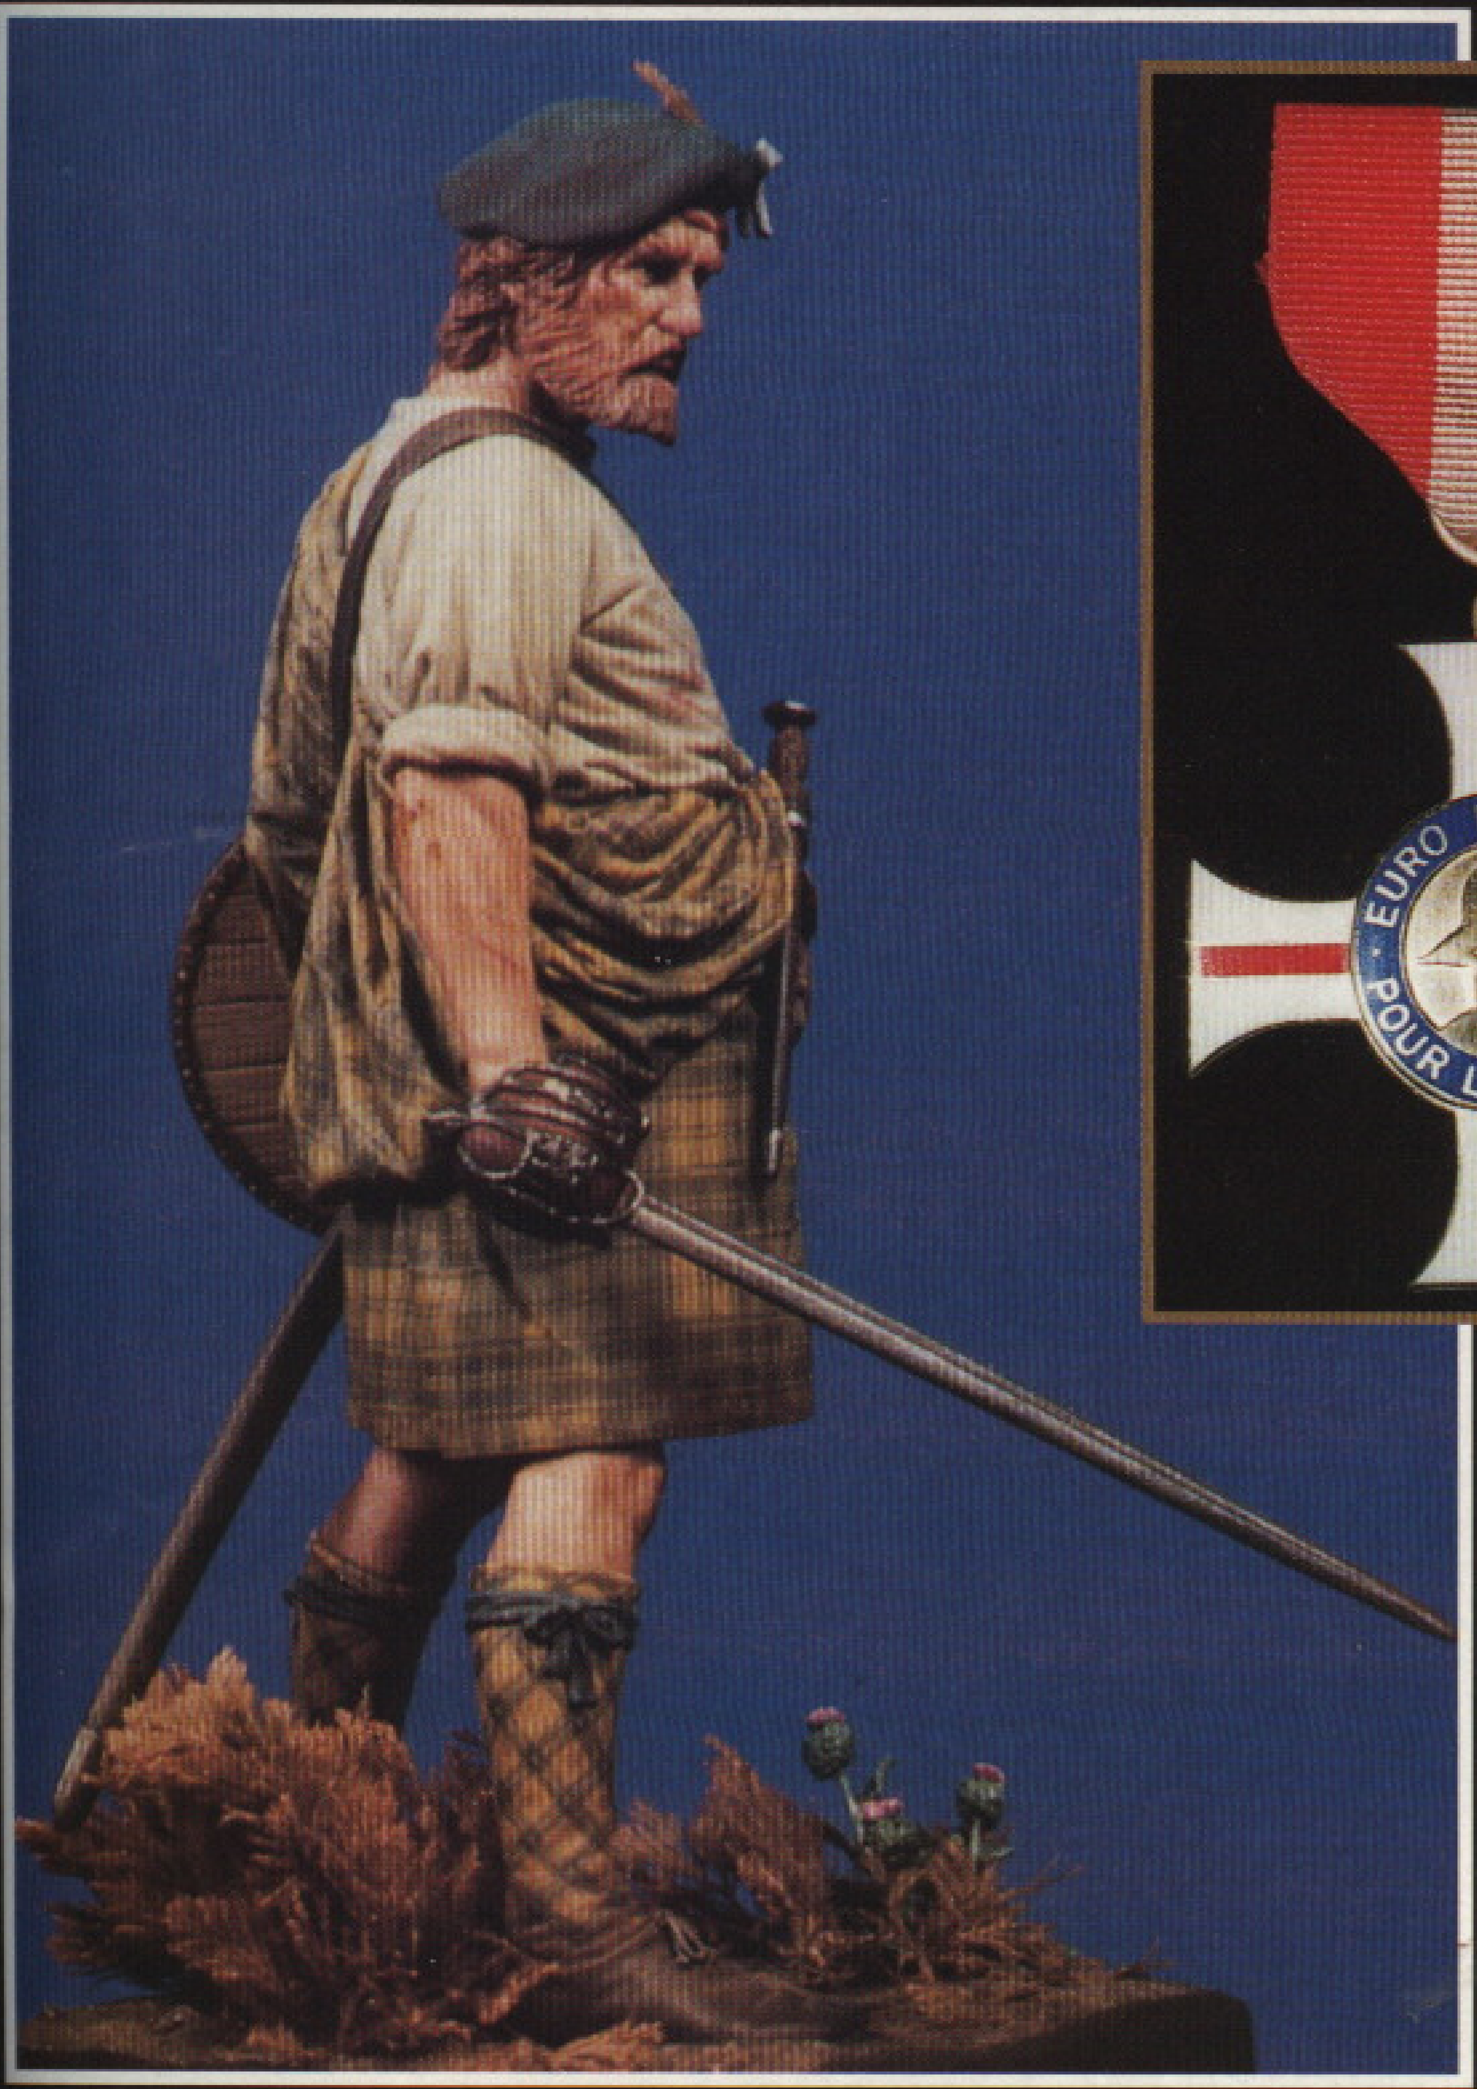
The Best of Show Euro Militaire 1997



Highlander Veteran at Culloden
by Raúl Garcia Latorre



Young Spanish modeller Raúl Garcia Latorre followed his success at the Paris Mondial with a Best of Show win at Euro Militaire. His figure of a Scottish Highlander veteran soldier at Culloden shown here also won a Gold award and was entirely scratch built and also painted by Raúl. The model is to be released as a kit, cast in polyurethane resin, by Elite Miniatures of Spain, so you can own the figure and have a go at assembling and painting one yourself.



EURO MILITAIRE

The photo shows an unpainted and unretouched detail from one of the famed Hornet 1:35 scale 'spare heads' sets. You've read about Hornet heads, but you are unlikely to find them in your model shop because our hobby is considered a minority interest.
